Pay Raise Given Carmel Teachers Robison Resigns

Effective July 1, teachers of Sunset and Carmel High School, about 36 in number, will have a five per cent raise in pay, it was decided at a special meeting of the Board of Education held in the high school council room after commencement exercises last week.

At the same meeting Major Shelburn Robison resigned and the members recommended Mrs. G. A. Moller to succeed him, her appointment subject to the approval of James Force, county school superintendent.

The school custodians were included in the salary increase which was granted in view of the fact that living costs have increased from 14 to 30 per cent, and that the new budget makes the increase possible without additional outlay.

The budget, as presented for approval by Peter Mawdsley, school auditor, by cutting down on capital outlay, allows for some improvements to school grounds and athletic fields, as well as for the salary boost, without necessitating an increase in the tax rate.

Among the improvements are the surfacing of the tennis courts, seeding for the lawn of the girls' athletic field at the high school, and a study of the drainage problems in connection with the new high school grounds.

Major Shelburn Robison's resignation from the board came as a result of his appointment to a post as military instructor at Santa Clara University earlier this year. Mrs. Moller has for some time been active in P.-T. A. and other school interests.

Present at the board meeting were Major Robison, Mrs. Horace Dormody, newly re-elected member, Harold Nielsen, Hugh Comstock, Peter Ferrante, Superintendent Otto Bardarson and Auditor Peter Mawdsley.

Local Boys Leave For Big Sur Camp

A delegation from Carmel will be on hand tomorrow when the Boy Scouts' Camp Esselen opens in Big Sur State Park.

Jack Pelton is taking a group of boys down from Troop 39 which will include Victor Harber, Tommy Hefling, Robert Jensen, Martin Katz, Richard Moore, Jerry Shepard, Wilson Van Kessler, Ray Wermuth and B. Wood.

They plan to stay for a week at least, camping, playing, taking nature trips, passing Scout tests. Emergency service training and advancement in Scout rank will be especially featured at camp this year, according to Melville O. Johns, Boy Scout field executive and camp director.

Since the boys will provide and cook their own food, local Scouts are meeting tonight at the Boy Scout house to plan their menus.

Southwest Part Of City Dimmed Out for Drivers

Signs requesting restricted driving lights were posted within the city limits of Carmel yesterday afternoon by the police department in compliance with the dim-out regulations requested by the 12th Naval District.

After dark tourists are to use only parking lights driving in either direction on Ocean avenue between Carpenter street and the beach, and on all streets in the area bounded by Ocean avenue, Monte Verde, Santa Lucia and Scenic Drive.

Police Chief Roy Fraties points out that parking lights are required of cars in these regions even though they are not facing the ocean since full lights would blind oncoming cars which had their lights dimmed.

The Carmel police department will enforce these dim-out regulations and will report violators to the Twelfth Naval District. The new signs within the city are identical to those which have been posted for some time in adjacent unincorporated areas.

Three Times and Out You Go Says City Judge Ross

Three times is too much for City Judge George Ross. First he put her on probation for being drunk and disturbing the peace of the village. It didn't work. Then he fined her $100. In a few days she was back in court on the same charges.

Losing patience, Judge Ross sentenced her to sixty days in the county jail, but, he told her, he would withhold commitment until ten o'clock next morning and he explained that the commitment could not be served outside the county. The lady took the hint, and is no longer a Peninsula resident.

NICE GREENBACK SMELL

It may have been unsightly, and a touch odorous, that collection of scrap iron, rags and rubber on the lot next to the post office, but it meant a very substantial sum of money to the Carmel Civilian Defense.

The lot is cleaned up now, and the CD is in possession of $99 as a result of the sale of the salvage.

Big Hearted for Our Own Good We Pass Out Masks

"Out of the goodness of our hearts," announced Frank Hay with a grin, "we gave the Highlands fire department four of the 89 gas masks the federal government gave us."

The government allots the masks in proportion to population within the city limits, Hay, police officer and new head C. D. Warden, said. Within the city, the police department issues the masks to the key men in the CD organization. Here in Carmel, the regular police, special police, regular firemen and a number of the Auxiliary firemen were equipped this week.

The city was under no obligation to dole out any masks to people in the unincorporated area. "But we consider them vital to our defense," said Hay. Hence the gift of the four masks to the Highlands Fire Department.

More masks are expected from the government shortly.

Recreation Plans Include Swimming; Teen-age Dances

Carmel's elaborately planned recreation program — first in the history of the Village — will go into action Monday.

Of special interest to the boys and girls will probably be the free swimming parties on Fridays.

While on Monday seventeen games and sports will be in progress for youngsters and grown-ups throughout the town. On Sunset playground from 10 a.m. until 5 p.m. there will be games, swinging, sliding, softball, badminton, tether ball, horseshoes, handball, volleyball and basketball, conducted for various ages under the leadership of Leila Gilmert, George Mosolf and Judd Cray.

Clay modeling for adults, taught by Madame Beygran, will take place from 10 a.m. until 1 p.m. in Sunset shop, and from 1 to 3:30 p.m. Madame will conduct a class for children.

Down on the beach Monday from 2 to 5 p.m. will be games of volleyball, deck tennis, touch football and beach games.

David Marrs will give tennis instruction from 10 a.m. to 12 m. on (Continued on page 3)

2 Soldiers Who Should Have Called a Taxi

At 2 o'clock Thursday morning, Bob Harnisch, Greyhound Taxi proprietor, discovered he had one car less when he missed the Ford coupe, his personal means of transportation, that he'd left parked at San Carlos and Ocean.

At 2:30 his motor vehicle count was back to normal. The Pacific Grove police, notified by the Carmel Police of the situation, had found Harnisch's coupe in Pacific Grove in the possession of two soldiers who wanted to take a ride. The soldiers are now in jail.

Good Morning Pine Cone-Cymbal Readers

For a good many years you've heard the paper boys sing their Friday song in front of the post office, "Pine Cone-Cymbal — Pine Cone - Cymbal." They were selling two papers. Strangers in town, hearing them joining the two names in unconscious consolidation, sometimes thought they were selling one.

This morning the strangers are right. For the first time in years the post office force has only one Carmel paper to put into the boxes. Only one Carmel paper will be on sale on the streets and on the stands, The Pine Cone-Cymbal.

Yesterday, the Pine Cone bought the Cymbal. Today, through the combined subscription lists of the two papers, the Pine Cone-Cymbal enters more Peninsula homes than any local weekly has ever entered. It enters more Carmel homes than any one paper, daily or weekly.

As publisher and editor of the only Carmel paper, we realize we have a responsibility to the community. We shall do our best to fulfill that responsibility.

Cliff and Wilma Cook.

Magic Names and Faces March Past in Brave Review for Pine Cone Reporter

By ELIZABETH PAINE

Back in the nineteen-aughts when there were no houses between Ocean avenue and the Point and hardly any trees, back at the roots of Carmel's beginnings, people with famous names came to Carmel.

Many of them found their way to the studios of the early artists and left in guestbooks a record that becomes a personal history of the Village. This week The Pine Cone dipped into the guestbooks of two of Carmel's first artists, M. De Neale Morgan, whose studio has been on Lincoln between Ocean and Eighth since 1909, and Eva Belle Adams who came to Carmel in the same year and lives at Casa Contenta on Casanova.

Only One Lotta

Celebrities to be found reach from Lotta Crabtree, who simply signed a big "Lotta" on Miss Morgan's book in 1915, to James Rolph, Jr., Mrs. Rolph and James III, who were here inspecting art exhibits in 1911. There were the David Starr Jordans and the settlement men of Stanford professors, Henry W. Stuart, Raymond Macdonald Alden, H. Rushton Fairclough, Peirce, Rendtorff, Henry David Gray, Edgar Eugene Robinson, Thorstein Veblen.

Some of the signatures tell stories of the beginning of a romance. On July 5, 1913, for instance, a young couple dropped in to see Miss Morgan's paintings—Harriet Stewart Judd and Paul Eliel. Today Eliel is a professor in the Stanford School of Business Administration and has gained national fame as an arbiter in industrial disputes. Harriet Eliel has been state president of the League of Women Voters and a national committeewoman. Their son, Leonard, is a doctor in the Navy.

Remember "Panchito"?

Again a signature recalls an all but forgotten nickname of a well-known citizen. In 1911 the F. E. Lloyds signed their names and also that of their son, "Panchito" (now Frank). Also Mrs. Jessie Short (Jackson) and J. "Duckie" Short are listed. And in the same year, one Allen Knight, Jr., of 2335 Divisadero street, San Francisco, registered a visit to Carmel.

THE DOGS DO BARK

Glamour Boy Meets Glamour Girl

When NICHOLAS Aherne, who is spending the summer in Pebble Beach with his charming mistress, Mrs. Brian Aherne (Joan Fontaine), met our local belle, MISCAN Fraser, the other day, he was duly impressed. So was MISCAN—though she pretended to be quite indifferent.

NICHOLAS was intrigued by MISCAN'S aloofness, and absolutely fascinated by her pink bow. He sat and gazed at her with keen interest and admiration while she pretended to be quite indifferent to his charms. But every time she thought he wasn't looking, she took a peek at the handsome little fellow, and later told a friend that he was one of the most attractive young men she had met in a long time—but being typically feminine, MISCAN wasn't going to give him the satisfaction of knowing she thought so.

SEAN Short, who has been attending all the "Charley's Aunt" rehearsals, is so taken with "Auntie" Lloyd Weer, that he insists on making all her, or rather, his, entrances and exits with her, or rather, with him, and in between times nuzzles up to her, or rather, to him and wants to shake paws.

As quickly as SEAN is hustled out of one door by some helpful member of the cast, he manages to sneak in another door and tip-toe around among the actors until he gets to "Auntie" Lloyd again.

The director can't decide whether to write in a part for SEAN, or get a bouncer.

MAC Stitt would like to enlist as a combination Marine "Hell Diver" and one-man submarine, so every chance he gets he goes down to the river mouth with his master and mistress, Milton and Barbara Stitt, and practices diving off the rocks into the water. He is getting so good at it that he can dive from a high rock and retrieve a stick thrown far out into the water in nothing flat—so Hirohito, look out!

The Village beaux are diligently studying their "Emily, Post" since PENNY Hartsook arrived here from Honolulu, for she is noted for having the prettiest manners in the Islands.

The charming little Griffon is planning on making her home here with her mistress, Frances Hartsook. PENNY'S mistress used to live in Carmel years ago and had described Ocean avenue as "just a little dirt road winding in and out among the pines," so PENNY was just as surprised as her mistress to find it neatly paved and lined with shops and real estate offices. However, PENNY likes Carmel very much because the Villagers, canine and human, are just as friendly as the Hawaiians, canine and human, and though there is a slight difference in the climate, she feels quite at home already.

YIPPEE (exclamation point) Martin is back in town again after his jaunt south with his mistress, Katie Martin. He had a wonderful (exclamation point) time, even though he did have to ride in the baggage car, and now is trotting up and down Ocean avenue with even more than his usual bounce.

Margery Street Visits—

Back in town, busy seeing her friends, is Margery Street, who will remain on the Peninsula until July 1.

Carmen Amaya Music Society Possible Choice

The Carmel Music Society is studying the artist landscape preliminary to choosing its artists for its sixteenth annual season, which will open next fall.

Fortunately, there is no rationing of music, and the Carmel Society, which was organized to bring the best in music to the Monterey Peninsula, feels that more than ever at this time it is necessary to dedicate itself anew to the lofty purpose of bringing music to this vicinity.

Although the 1942-43 program is not yet announced, it seems very probable that the season will open with the breath-taking, sensational, description-defying Carmen Amaya. The superlatives lavished on Amaya's whirlwind dancing have not been called into use for several decades of fine dancers.

The Carmel Music Society is much interested that a preview of Carmen Amaya is being furnished with the reopening of the Kusters' Carmel Playhouse where a short film of the dancer is being shown now and next week up to Wednesday night.

Anton Janda First Literary Soldier

By DAWN OVERHULSE

When the librarians arrived at their posts Monday morning, they found on the front steps that small bundle of impatience known as Anton Janda. He had been waiting for the library to open for some time, he informed them caustically, and he was ready to get down to business.

He had taken a book out on Saturday afternoon, read it over the week-end, and was now ready to return it. The volume-hall keepers were amazed. In the first place such promptness was unusual, and then it was such a big book for such a small boy. But he was inspired, he was fired with enthusiasm, he was the first member of the new Summer Reading Club.

According to the librarians he had really read the book and not only remembered the story, but also some of the finer points.

So the first name to appear on the reading club military chart was that of Anton Janda. He proved to be a leader in the literary parade. Soon on the list appeared the names of James Russell Kendall, Bob Cook, Pat Merivale, Billy Dufur, Ann Marie Tanuos, Sandy Whitehair, Edward Whitehair, Emma Schmutz, Ruth Van Niel, Jan Van Niel, Ester Van Niel, Barbara Cunliffe, Mary Louise Lodmell, Audrey Mawdsley, Richard Templeman and Dick Weer.

Dr. Crowther Rotary Club Guest Speaker

Dr. James E. Crowther, pastor of the Church of the Wayfarer, was the guest speaker for the Salinas Rotary Club last Tuesday noon (June 9). His theme was, "We Face New Frontiers."

The invitation came as a result of his recent baccalaureate sermon for the graduates of the Salinas High School.

Salvage Paper Drives Stopped; City Stocked Up

Due to the heavy burden placed upon the paper companies in the past months in the rehabilitating of salvage materials, it is impossible to place orders with them at this time. All salvage now in storage here will have to await the time when it can be absorbed by these companies that handle the salvage, Mayor Keith Evans said yesterday.

Residents of Carmel and the surrounding territories are asked to hold their newspapers and cartons until the city can get rid of what is now on hand. Salvage pickups in the city will cease for the time being.

Magazines, however, can be handled as they are of a grade which can now be reclaimed so all of those who have quantities of magazines which they are anxious to get rid of may take them to the building in back of the Plaza Fuel company on Junipero and 6th streets where they are stored until disposal.

Opera Stars in Portrait Show At Sketch Box

Royal Stowell, Carmel painter, will open an exhibition of his portraits tomorrow at the Sketch Box gallery.

Among the artist's recent work are portrait drawing of many well known people of the Peninsula, which will be shown as well as a number of autographed sketches of opera singers. These, from Stowell's collection of musical celebrities, were made on the stage of the Metropolitan and San Francisco Opera houses during performances.

The show will remain up for two weeks.

Magic Names and Faces March Past in Brave Review For Pine Cone Reporter

Mrs. G. F. Beardsley who are still here, Mrs. Margaret Hamden Gibbons who moved only recently.

Here From Persia

Ida and John Northern Hilliard were here in 1912 from Teheran, Persia, to make their home. Elsie Martinez came down from Piedmont and Jennie Venerstrom Cannon was a frequent visitor. Two of the largest signatures are those of Louise E. and David T. Prince. They were printed in Miss Morgan's book during 1912 in pencil letters. Jessie Williams called from Stockton and William Ritschel from New York.

Redfern Mason and Arnold Genthe, father of modern photography, both of whom had homes here, called on their neighbors from time to time and so did W. J. McCorg, composer, who lived up the Valley. Raine Bennett, "poet of the air," left three bars of his composition, "Aladdin," on a page of Miss Morgan's book for 1913. Alfred Hertz, the late conductor of the San Francisco Symphony, also called. Sara Huntsman, now Prof. Sturgis of the public speaking department at the University of California was vacationing then, a carefree girl who dropped in to see Miss Adams' seascapes and sign her guestbook.

Today's Citizens Arrive

About the same time, Dr. D. T. MacDougal, now of the Highlands, came from Tucson to see Carmel. Daniel Willard, who lives on Camino Real, and Mrs. Abbie MacDow, whose home is still on Monte Verde, were settled in Carmel permanently that long ago. Mrs. Grace MacGowan Cooke, mother of Helen and Kit, was here then, and artists Arthur Vachell and Chris Jorgensen. A group of artists and writers stopped in to see Miss Morgan one day in 1915 and their numbers included John Kenneth Turner, Fred Bechdolt and William J. Watts, who continue their writing and painting in and near the Village. Alice R. Comins paints in Carmel during the winter and on the Maine coast in summer, a custom she had commenced by 1915.

Even "Little Peppers" Author

The author of "The Five Little Peppers," Mrs. Daniel Lathrop, came to Carmel in 1916, while in 1917 a large group of New York artists arrived, Jonas Lie and George Bellows among them. Etcher Roi Partridge journeyed down from Seattle, and Julian de Cordova of Lincoln, Mass., now 93 but out for the season as usual, had begun his trips to Carmel in 1917 and also his interest in the work of Carmel painters. Artist Dewitt Parrshall and Actress Emily Melville were among the "names" in town then. Kate Carew, "Tattler" cartoonist, viewed Miss Adams' more serious work.

Miss Adams' book shows that in 1919 Esther Birdsall Darling, author of the Alaskan dog books, came down from Nome to sun herself.

Lively Photographs

The guestbooks are spiced with occasional snapshots, of a beardless Austin James as a friar in a Forest theater pageant, Bert Heron as Feste, Arthur Vachell and Garnet Holme as Tweedle Dum and Tweedle Dee, Perry Newberry dancing on Carmel sands as the griffin in "Alice in Wonderland," and, in Miss Morgan's book and of especial interest to all Carmelites, old and new, a picture of Fred Bechdolt as Malvolio. His arms are outstretched, his eyes on Heaven. Anyone who is not already familiar with the studios of Miss Adams and Miss Morgan and with their guestbooks will find in them a delightful aspect of old Village life.

Badminton and games, Sunset gymnasium and playground, Miss Gulmert and Cray.

Thursday

Archery, led by Miss Gulmert, will be held on the high school field from 2 to 4 p.m., in addition to a repeat of the sports on Monday's schedule.

Friday

Mosolf will take a group of boys and girls on a free swimming party every Friday to the La Playa pool, the only requirements being that the participants are under 21 and can arrange their own transportation.

Boys and girls wishing to join these parties, starting at 10 a.m., returning at 4, may begin signing up now with Mosolf or with Miss Gulmert.

Besides the swimming, the Friday program will include all the sports listed for Mondays.

And Saturdays will see beach equipment available all day, and during the mornings there will be the regular playground supervision at Sunset.

Another project, in process of arrangement, will be dances, following barn dance and other themes, which will be held in Sunset cafeteria for the Junior Dance group by Miss Gulmert.

Plans to use the Racquet Club pool did not materialize since it is reserved for the Army and Army nurses.

Legion Auxiliary To Give De Luxe Party June 18

A beautiful oriental rug has been donated by Mrs. T. B. Wilson of the Highlands as the door prize for the card party to be given by the American Legion Auxiliary Thursday, June 18, as a benefit for child welfare work and Civilian Defense.

There will be not only the general prize but a prize for every table as well.

The party will come off at La Ribera at 8 p.m. with Mrs. Fred McIndoe in charge.

Mrs. Rene Moore is serving as chairman of cards; Mrs. William Muscutt, as chairman of prizes; Mrs. Peter Elliott, of tables; while Mrs. Conrad Imelman will assist Mrs. McIndoe.

The welfare work carried on by the Auxiliary is among the children of veterans, providing for them medical necessities, clothing and milk.

Local Chaplain Gives Talk at Salinas Armory

Father Eugene Edward MacDonald of the Point gave the patriotic address Sunday at the memorable Pearl Harbor anniversary Navy enlistment services at the Salinas Armory.

Twenty-two men from this region joined the Navy simultaneously in the impressive ceremonies. The stage was virtually covered with flags lent by local patriotic groups as Lt. William M. Thebaut, Jr., of San Francisco administered the oath to the new recruits exactly six months to the day of the bombing of Pearl Harbor.

The speaker, Father MacDonald, is himself a former member of the Navy, having served as a naval chaplain until his retirement a few years ago.

To the Editor

Dear Wilma and Cliff:

I hasten to congratulate you and wish you well in your new venture. I hope you will return to Carmel something which has been missing for a long time, a true Carmel-consciousness which will be at the same time un-smug and unselfish. You have something worth fighting for in that. Good luck!

FRANK LLOYD.

400 People Have Taken Part In Shakespeare Group

Since the announcement of the plans for twilight performances of Shakespeare plays in the Forest Theatre, there has been a renewal of interest in the Shakespeare reading classes from which many of the members of the cast for the Festival will be drawn. In view of this interest, the Pine Cone asked Herbert Heron for an account of the background and history of the group. His article follows:

By HERBERT HERON

More than four hundred persons have taken part in the readings, rehearsals and stage work. All of Shakespeare's 37 plays (except the long three-part chronicle of King Henry the Sixth) have been read and discussed by the group, and many of them were read several times—a total of 70.

In addition to Shakespeare, 144 plays by other dramatists have been read and discussed, with 61 repeats—a total of 205, which added to the Shakespeare readings brings the grand total to 275.

Among the many and varied playwrights read in the five years, besides the one and only Shakespeare, were Aeschylus, Maxwell Anderson, Jacinto Benavente, J. M. Barrie, Arnold Bennett, Chekhov, John Drinkwater, Dunsany, Euripides, Galsworthy, Gogol, Goldsmith, Lady Gregory, Hoffmannstahl, Sidney Howard, Ibsen, MacKaye, Maeterlinck, Somerset Maugham, A. A. Milne, Moliere, Molnar, Sean O'Casey, Clifford Odets, Eugene O'Neill, Stephen Phillips, Edmond Rostand, William Saroyan, Shaw, Sheridan, Sherwood, Sophocles, John Steinbeck, Strindberg, Sudermann, Synge, Wilder, Oscar Wilde, Thornton Wilder and Yeats.

Works of Martin Flavin, Robinson Jeffers and George Sterling were particularly considered.

Six evenings were devoted to Commedia dell'Arte and three to radio plays.

Original plays by members of the group were given special readings, one by Berta Metzger and one by Richard Boone.

Two beach suppers and two studio suppers were held in connection with the work of the group.

Besides the readings for their own study and pleasure, the group has given public readings of Cathleen in Houlihan, The Workhouse Ward, Riders to the Sea, and The Glittering Gate. These were for the P. T. A. and the Women's Club.

In addition to the above, 163 Shakespeare rehearsals were held, culminating in the Forest Theater productions of Macbeth, Twelfth Night, Hamlet, and The Merry Wives of Windsor. Also 26 rehearsals for The Importance of Being Earnest, produced in Sunset Auditorium, and a total of 45 rehearsals for the two plays by Lady Gregory (The Travelling Man and Spreading the News) also staged in Sunset. And the group cooperated fully in the modern dress production of Julius Caesar given in the Auditorium and repeated at Salinas a little over two years ago.

Uzzells Returning Soon—

On June 19 Joyce and Mary Jane Uzzell will fold up their tents and steal down from San Jose State College. Joyce graduates this year after four years of what started out as a physical education major, but ended up in general education. Mary Jane will return next year as a sophomore. Meanwhile, both girls will be home soon to see their mother, Mrs. Ann Uzzell.

Ted Leidig Marries Today—

In Corpus Christi, Texas, today, Ensign Theodore R. Leidig and Miss Doraine Louise Geiger are being married. They are coming to Carmel for their honeymoon and will probably arrive Monday.

Close friends through school here and also at Stanford, Ted Leidig and John Campbell will be together again in today's ceremony. John's father, Argyll Campbell, in Texas at the moment, is also planning to attend the wedding.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert G. Leidig, Carmel pioneers, Ted is in the Navy Air Corps. His bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Geiger of Corpus Christi and attended the University of Texas where she was a member of Zeta Tau Alpha sorority and of Theta Sigma Phi, honorary journalism fraternity.

Judges For Del Monte Dog Show Announced—

Mr. and Mrs. John Herndon have donated a champion bred Dalmatian 3 months old puppy that will be raffled off at the show.

Two of the judges are at Fort Ord. Sgt. Robert Willis will judge the working dogs, and Private Godsol will judge several of the groups, such as the terriers, toy dogs and sporting dogs. For best in show, Mr. Ernest Ferguson, the western representative of Dogs for Defense, Inc., will come up from Los Angeles to judge.

Joe West, now in the Navy, owner of the Del Monte Kennels, will be down to help Miss Frances Hartsook, who is judging the obedience classes, and a very large entry is expected.

The profits of the show will be donated to the Carmel Red Cross to help furnish their new house and of course many of the Carmel

STILL RAISING CANE

This week's prize example of courage came through the mail in the form of a card from Honolulu. "Still Raising Cane," it said. "We last circularized our mainland friends just before 'Pearl Harbor.' Since then there have been a lot of changes in Hawaii. But we are still 'raising cane' and, to prove it, are sending you, with compliments of the Hawaiian Sugar Planters Association, an attractive booklet, KING CANE, by John W. Vandercook. We hope it will recall pleasant memories of Hawaii. After the war we will be as eager as ever to greet you and your friends. In the meantime, aloha nui Loa." It was signed, "Hawaii Tourist Bureau."

Obviously they have nothing to promote now, either in the way of sugar, which seems to be moving all right without promotion, or the tourist business which would appear to be pretty unpromotable in Honolulu at present.

But it isn't the present they are considering. They are looking to the future, and advertising for the future. And anybody who thinks that highly of advertising, and has that much faith in the ultimate straightening out of the current unpleasantness has our enthusiastic applause, and a free plug in THE PINE CONE.

THANK YOU VERY MUCH

And here is another example of advertising that is somewhat off the beaten track of merchandising. Recently, in the Sausalito News the following three by one inch display ad appeared:

"Thank you very much... people of Sausalito. We appreciate your many kindnesses to us while we have lived and worked in this community. We leave you for the duration and we hope that we shall be able to return after peace is declared. The Japanese residents of Sausalito."

The ad appeared when the Japanese were rounded up in Sausalito and sent to the Merced assembly camp. It was clipped and sent to a Carmel resident and, as generally happens in the case of the odd or the interesting, it eventually found its way to THE PINE CONE, along with a post card a Sausalito American woman had received from her Japanese servant in the Merced assembly camp.

"Reached Merced at 7 p.m.," the card reads. "We're thankful to be treated very fairly here and everything is just swell, only the climate is very hot. Please take good care of health and good luck to you."

Loving fairness, freedom and tolerance as we do, I believe it has been painful to a great many of us to see all the California Japanese without exception sent off to the assembly camps. Our common sense tells us we were bound to take that action in self defense, as there was no way of making sure which were dangerous to us and which were not. But common sense is never much comfort. Word from the Japanese themselves that they do not feel particularly put upon is more satisfying.

THE NUDE THAT WASN'T THERE

Early this week I decided to start complaining in this column about why doesn't Carmel have a recreation project for grown-ups. How come all this fuss to furnish the kids with a recreational program when just being young is recreation enough?

Then, Monday night, in the course of routine nosing around for news, I found that Carmel does have a recreation project for grown-ups.

I'd stopped in at Sunset to check up on the enrollment for adult school courses. Patricia Cunningham's life drawing class was on the

WINDFIRE

*The heart is stunned, a cloud is turquoise tipped.
The world is filling like a crystal cup;
The phosphorescent sea is cobalt dipped.
The mountain's jeweled drifting mist has thinned
To smoke, blue smoke of heaven curling up
From the wild burning of an azure wind!*

—MARGERY ALLYN BISHOP.

TRAIN RIDE

*Clack southward over tule swamps
While a summer's-weight of air,
Heavy as our smoke, rolls on the earth
Stained brown and red and browned by the salt.
Tidewater sloughs sucked up from the bay
Speaks through the land, their water swifter mud.
Here rust-flamed discards burn invisibly:
Old auto tops, rotted integers of wharf,
Ellipse of gunwhale makes mouth above the tide.
A few mudhens, wings frantic for the air,
Slant up in taut trajectories.
And inside, above slapping straps,
Loud above shrilling iron, is heard a brass
"You're damn right that's what I told him."
But downward near the bay, as the train
Is stammering at a bridge,
A white crane banks one wing in sun,
His fluent circle becoming monument.*

—ARNOLD NEEDHAM.

ADORATION

*There's a white rose in my garden,
Moon-tinted with mother of pearl.
A silver heart, pale—shining,
Round which soft leaflets curl.
And down the sky comes stealing,
As soft as elf-chimes pealing,
Impatient to be feeling
The rose's petaled bloom,
A moon-ray, drunk with wonder
At the flower's loveliness,
That glows enraptured under
The mystical caress.
Eager for sweet plunder
In the velvet, silent gloom.
And it is good to turn from sadness
That the hours of day disclose,
To see the lovely adoration
Of the moonlight for the rose.*

—WILMA OELSNER.

STATISTICIAN

*I laid my dreams all end to end
As statisticians do,
They made a straight unbroken line
That stretched from me to you.*

*The trail they made was beautiful,
But I awoke, and then,
I had to walk the whole way back

schedule and since I couldn't ever remembering seeing a life drawing class in action, I went on down to the last room in the far wing. Fine night for a visitor! The model hadn't shown up. She's a bride I was told and when her husband learned she was to pose nude, he said "no." I supposed that would be a signal for Mrs. Cunningham to say, "school's out." But Mrs. Cunningham sat down on a desk and said, "draw me," and the class fell to work busily doing Mrs. Cunningham's head and shoulders. Some of them made her pretty fearsome, some did a first class job—all of them worked with the absorption that comes through pleasure in their task. Their concentration was so complete that I doubt if any of them heard the lusty, lively sounds ringing from the room down stairs. I went down to investigate.

Education Makes Itself Heard

What I found was about thirty people working their heads off and loving it. The hardest worker of the lot was a kindly looking man with thick hair and a thick accent beating out of the piano the Et Ressurexit of the B Minor mass. He was pulling, demanding, coaxing, cajoling music out of the singers sitting in a semicircle around him. And they were giving! — enjoying working together, enjoying working for him, enjoying the music they were making. It didn't take more than a few minutes to find that the Bach Festival chorus is shaping up beautifully, and that you have to watch him conducting rehearsal to appreciate the energy, the kindly humor, the patience and the personal charm of Gastone Usigli.

Crossing the play field I noticed that the first grade room was brightly lighted, which was interesting since there was nothing scheduled to take place in the first grade room. I walked in.

Chairs and tables were shoved to one side and there was action in the middle. "Charlie's Aunt" was in rehearsal. As some of the town's best comedy talent is in the cast, there is no question but they are going to give entertainment to a great many people when the CD benefit play is produced. Meanwhile, don't imagine they are slaving and sweating grimly for a noble cause. They are working hard, but they are having a good time doing it.

Odds Bodkins Education

My last call was some blacks from Sunset, at a second floor studio of Seven Arts Court.

In a high-raftered room with an open fireplace where Falstaff himself could waddle around with his nose in a tankard of ale and not seem incongruous, a group sat in a semicircle under theatrically strong light. They had come to bury Caesar, not to praise him, but first Brutus had to have his way with the mob, and the mob its say; and if you don't think that particular mob enjoys having its say, you should go up to one of Herbert Heron's Shakespeare Reading Group meetings.

And if the Brutus who is reading the part at present, is available for the Twilight-Festival production of Julius Caesar, Herbert Heron will have no worries over casting the part.

With the exception of the "Charlie's Aunt" rehearsal, all these groups I looked in on are part of the adult education program. After watching these students in their "classes," I'd say they were there purely to enjoy themselves, and any education so acquired was entirely incidental. Moreover, any project that furnishes so much pleasure, satisfaction and self-expression to so large a group of people is a recreation project, and to go around calling it "adult school" is a masquerade misleading to people who are all primed to complain, why don't we have a recreation program for adults?

First Theatre Center of Peninsula Cultural Activity Anniversary Recalls Famous Gold Coast Plays and Players

Five years ago, the state monument on Pacific and Scott streets in Monterey, which has the distinction of being the "First Theatre in California," was reopened as an active playhouse, after having been dark for over seventy-five years. The Denny-Watrous Management, making a special arrangement with the State of California, Division of Parks, secured Galt Bell as director, and organized a group which they called "The Troupers of the Gold Coast." On June 3, 1937, sponsored by the History and Art Association of Monterey, in celebration of Monterey's 172nd birthday, the Troupers gave the production which reopened the First Theatre—"Tatters, the Pet of Squatters' Gulch." Seats sold that night for $2.50 each, and the play, with its hilarious olio, was an unqualified success. "Tatters" had twenty performances, over week-ends, before it closed its first spectacular run.

Actually, dramatic history was written on the Monterey Peninsula that night, five years ago. Of all the play groups which have brought fame to the Peninsula, luring summer visitors to Carmel and its environs, the Troupers of the Gold Coast, under the Denny-Watrous Management, represent the only group which has ever operated continuously over a period of five years. During that time some 286 performances have been given, with never a flop, and the First Theatre has gained a state-wide reputation as a center of entertainment and hilarious amusement. Its request mailing list, with hundreds of names, has patrons who desire to see each production, planning week-ends from Oakland, San Jose, Fowler, San Francisco, Los Angeles, etc.

Telfer Directs

Following Galt Bell's direction of "Tatters," directors at the First Theatre included the professional abilities of Ramio Ramirez and Chick McCarthy, and the talented guidance of Lloyd Weer, Bill Shepard and Gordon Knoles. A new era was born in August, 1940, when the management secured Ronald Telfer, professional theatre man of San Francisco, as director for the Gold Coast Troupers. Under Mr. Telfer's skillful, brilliant coaching, the First Theatre productions have attained a standard of unvarying professional excellence.

There are two hundred odd names in the roster of Gold Coast Troupers, but those who have been most active during the last two years, some of them playing almost every week-end of 1941-42, deserve special mention. Possibly Louise Welty, with more than 175 nights on the First Theatre stage, should head the list. Louise is now playing the title role in "Tatters," and is a prime olio favorite.

So much of talent, ability and devotion to the First Theatre has been given that it is almost impossible to list any names without giving all. But of the present group, the following would have to be pointed out: Eddie George, who is veteran in the length of time he has been a Trouper; Wilma Bott, Esther Gay, Roland Schefler, Dan Welty, Douglas Hume, Jean Humphrey, Margaret Mather, Dick and Alma Santa, Bob McMenamin, Dick Boone, Clare Chamberlain, Darwin Law, Allan Wyatt, Jadwiga Babcock, Edward Hopkins. Among those who have played prominently during the last three years are Jessie Joan Brown, Bob Bratt, Franklin Dixon, David Arnold, Val Porter, the Hildebrand Sisters, Louis Dubin, Charlotte Wales, Milton Latham, Paul Clemensen, Joe Halsted, Mary Greene, the Meagher Brothers, and many others. What might be termed the "early period" starred such well-known names as Mary Henderson, the original "Tatters," Connie Bell, Flavia Flavin, Bill Shepard, Lloyd

Clever Costumer

Too much credit cannot be given the First Theatre staff. Rhoda Johnson, who has designed and executed practically all of the costumes, is an indispensable and beloved Trouper. No show could go on without her final deft touch, which is sheer genius, nor could the olio costume changes be made without Rhoda's swift, professional help. Rhoda, in the current production, has been joined by Dick Johnson, who is responsible for stage construction and stage management. Franklin Dixon's name is at once thought of in connection with the settings, for he has done most of them during the five years. Kay Knudsen and Bill France, master of lights and back-stage intricacies, have been followed by Dick Johnson and Darwin Law. The original "peanut girls," Mar-

Girl Scouts Plan Cooking Classes Here in Carmel

Final plans were completed here this week for a Girl Scout summer program that includes cooking classes to be conducted in the Carmel Girl Scout house in addition to the day camp at Deer Flat Park in Monterey.

Barbara Foot, cooking and nutritional expert, will be at the Scout house for a half day weekly, either afternoon or evening, according to the convenience of the girls, to act as leader in a food preparation project through which the group can win food, cooks' and hostesses' badges, also credit on personal health and home health badges.

The cooking and nutritional project will culminate in a party arranged by the girls, either a mother and daughter dinner, or a party in which they will act as hostesses to friends of their own age.

Girl Scouts wishing to join the cooking class are to meet with Marie Von Kanel, executive secretary, and Miss Foot, at the Girl Scout House, June 18 at 10:30.

To make reservations for the day camp, which will be in session from June 22 to July 10, they should get in touch with Mrs. Talbert Josselyn, who is the Carmel representative.

According to the completed plans, the girls will spend from 10 o'clock in the morning to 4:30 in the afternoon at Deer Park in Monterey where they will cook their own lunch out of doors, using cooking utensils and stoves they have made themselves, and eating off wooden plates they have made in their wood carving project.

In this way they can win their outdoor cooks' badges and camp craft badges. They will have opportunities to gain credits also in nature study.

Audrey Akins of Del Monte, Mrs. L. R. Stoneman, Monterey, Mrs. Milford Anderson, Pacific Grove, and Skipper Ackroyd, Carmel, are the counselors who will be in charge. In addition, the A. W. V. S. will furnish an instructor in fire fighting and home protection.

Transportation daily to and from camp will have to be arranged by the parents in the case of the Carmel girls. Pacific Grove Girl Scouts have arranged for bus transportation.

Carmel Art Institute Starts Children's Classes This Week

The children's classes of the Carmel Art Institute, announced Director Pat Cunningham, are well under way, having as a starting enrollment ten local youngsters. They started on Tuesday, under the able hand of Elaine Cunningham, sister of John Cunningham, and very recently arrived from New York.

The children's classes are by no means closed, and will take new members any time they care to sign up. Allowed to work in any color medium they choose, the young art students are taken on field trips, receiving instruction in both indoor and outdoor work. Further information about either children or adult classes can be obtained by calling the Art Institute.

Rounded Up Nose Is Best Skitterboard Expert Insists

Malcolm Whitman and Ellsworth Montgomery, earnest skitterfans both, met on the south end of Carmel beach Tuesday, and informally puffed and panted out agreement on their choice of "Skitterboard" most likely to succeed in 1942.

Chosen from among several compared types was Mr. Whitman's latest board, a beamy, conservative specially made skitterboard, recently worked over to a style having a wide rounded, curved up nose. The design has worked out exceptionally well as skitterboard noses go—and do they go.

The chosen board will be on display at Lloyd Lemon's shop over the week-end and Carmel skitterfans are invited to drop in and compare its features with any designs they favor for use in this active surf-fringe sport. —M. W.

Salvage Fashion Fair Contest Is Call to Needle

An appeal to all Carmel women to help with the sewing and remodeling of materials, now being distributed at the Bundles for Bluejackets work shop on Dolores street, to make into garments for the relief of the wives and families of our American men fighting in this world war, is sent out by Mrs. J. W. Murphy, Jr., chairman of Bundles for Bluejackets.

The project of sending clothing so desperately needed by the wives and children of our sailors and soldiers is a national affair approved by the War Production Board. The program of a Salvage Fashion Fair is to be given throughout the United States this month. Every state is represented and Carmel's Bundles for Bluejackets is one of 500 branches working for this great war need.

The call for women to sew is most urgent. Contributions of materials have been generously given and the workers group have patterns ready to give to those who wish them or those who wish to make their own designs may select materials and work at home on them.

At the Salvage Fashion Fair to be given this month, prizes for the best designs for attractiveness and practical use will be awarded.

Call at the Bundles for Bluejackets' work room between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m., Dolores and Seventh, headquarters of Bundles for Bluejackets and Bundles for Britain.

Red Cross Bulletins

In these times, the American Red Cross considers it a primary obligation to provide an opportunity for every woman to learn to keep her family well and to give simple nursing care in case of illness. The Red Cross Home Nursing course is designed and offered for this purpose.

During an emergency of any kind, it is taken for granted that any woman would use her intelligence and the knowledge gained through this course to help her neighbors or the community. This is in accord with the spirit of neighborliness which has always been fostered by the Red Cross. The Red Cross Home Nursing course does not provide adequate preparations for rendering auxiliary nursing care in hospitals, clinics or first aid stations. Any woman who wishes to volunteer should consult the local Red Cross chapter. In Carmel, one may also register at the Red Cross desk in the post office on Fridays.

Chairmen's Meeting

Mrs. W. H. Hargrave, chairman of the Volunteer Services of the Carmel chapter of the American Red Cross, called a meeting of the chairmen and vice-chairmen of all the various units at her home in Pebble Beach Tuesday afternoon. Also present were three members of the executive board—Dr. Taubles, chairman; Mrs. Sidney Trevett, vice-chairman, and Mrs. Rush Wallace.

The chairmen and vice-chairmen respectively and their units are:

Miss K. Bier, Mrs. Mora Brooks, Nurses Aid and Home Nursing; Mrs. Muriel Phelps, Miss Helen Heavey, Motor Corps; Mrs. Edna Herloffsen, Mrs. Robin Jarvis, Canteen; Mrs. J. Abernethy, Mrs. Robert Sprouse, Nutrition; Mrs. Virginia Brooks Grey Ladies; Mrs. W. H. McCabe, Mrs. Ruth Cook, First Aid; Mrs. W. B. Swain (acting for Miss J. Burritt), Production; Kit Whitman, Cornelia Mulvin, staff assistants; Mrs. Frances Doud, publicity; Miss Rowena Beans, Miss Ruth Higby, wool collection; Colonel Stuart, Harrison Godwin, disaster; Mrs. Gladys Kiplinger, registration and information; Col. Taylor, highway first aid; Mrs. Fred Mylar, ambulance; Mrs. Ernest Morehouse, Junior Red Cross; Mrs. Lillian Locke, work room; Mrs. Rush Wallace, chapter council.

The chairmen each gave a report on the activities of their respective units during the past month, and plans for the future were discussed as well as various points concerning the function of each in case of an emergency or disaster, this being in the nature of a co-ordination meeting. The function of Red Cross in relation to other organizations was also explained by Col. Stuart.

garet Hartigan and Dorothy Alaire, have been succeeded by Martha Serrano and Mary Klakamp. Jerry Chance and Evelyn Nidever Hildebrand "at the piano" have been followed by "Gerry" Hanna. Always in the background of the staff is Isabel Hartigan, custodian of the First Theatre, who may be relied upon for anything and everything, from "pinch-hitting" in the Pinafore chorus to supplying last-minute props and finding lost script. Always at the bar is Lester Hartigan, with his handle-bar moustache.

First Theatre productions, which began with "Tatters" five years ago, include "In the Shadow of the Rockies," "The Forty-Niners," "East Lynne," "Ten Nights in a Bar-Room," "Moor Born," "Uncle Tom's Cabin," "Box and Cox," "The Streets of New York," "A Doll's House," "Under the Gaslight," "King and Queen of Gamblers," "The Drunkard," "Prince of Liars," "Bertha, the Sewing Machine Girl," "H. M. S. Pinafore," "Deserted at the Altar."

The current revival of "Tatters" shows tomorrow night and Sunday, and every week-end of June.

The Gold Coast Troupers' olios, which began with six acts five years ago, have extended to an average of twelve to fourteen swiftly-moving, rollicking variety acts following each melodrama. M. C.'s, which began with Blackie O'Neal, have included Bob Bratt, Spud Gray, Al Knight, Byington Ford, Eddie George, Bob McMenamin, Dick Boone and Douglas Hume.

"Clouds Have Silver Linings" is the sermon theme of Dr. James E. Crowther at the Church of the Wayfarer next Sunday morning. Mrs. Ellen Rosell as guest organist will play the following selections: "Prelude," Dubois; "The Swan," Saint-Saens; "Processional," Dubois. Visitors are cordially invited to share the hour of worship with us in this lovely sanctuary. Service men are especially invited.

In the Church School at 9:45 a.m. there will be promotional exercises, with a Junior Church program in the sanctuary. The classes will be combined for the summer months. A program of visual education, with stereopticon and moving pictures, will take the place of the usual study courses.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

"God the Preserver of Man" will be the subject of the Lesson-Sermon Sunday, June 14, in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts. The Golden Text will be: "The Lord is our defence; and the Holy One of Israel is our king." (Psalms 89:18).

Other Bible citations will include: "And great multitudes came unto him, having with them those that were lame, blind, dumb, maimed, and many others, and cast them down at Jesus' feet; and he healed them: Insomuch that the multitude wondered, when they saw the dumb to speak, the maimed to be whole, the lame to walk, and the blind to see: and they glorified the God of Israel." (Matt. 15:30, 31).

The Lesson-Sermon will also include the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus walked on the waves, fed the multitude, healed the sick, and raised the dead in direct opposition to material laws. His acts were the demonstration of Sci-

Christian Science President Elected At Directors' Meet

The great task now confronting a liberated America, which more than three quarters of a century ago fought a four-years war to free the slaves, is to aid in working out the freedom of the whole world from slavery. The Christian Science Board of Directors told several thousand Christian Scientists gathered in annual meeting in Boston June 8.

Declaring that this would be the sentiment expressed by the nation's martyred President, Abraham Lincoln, were he here today, the directors pointed out that "through the ages tyrants have endeavored to govern and control men by engendering fear," and quoting from Mary Baker Eddy's work, "Miscellany" (p. 191), they further say, "Persecution is the weakness of tyrants engendered by their fear, and love will cast it out."

The directors also announced the election of Mrs. Elisabeth F. Norwood of Brookline, Mass., as President of The Mother Church for the ensuing year. The chief duty of the president is to preside at the annual meeting.

Dog Show Prizes June 28 Will Be Defense Stamps

The annual Del Monte Outdoor Dog Show will be held on Sunday, June 28, with all proceeds going to the Carmel chapter of the American Red Cross.

All judges have donated their services and some of the outstanding exhibitors from all parts of the state will take part.

According to Henry Potter Russell, president of the Del Monte Kennel Club, defense stamps will be given out to winning exhibitors instead of the usual sterling trophies.

CD News Briefs

Lights Problem

A comprehensive study by State Council of Defense technicians to determine proper specifications for driving lights which may be used during blackouts was ordered recently.

Herbert Miles, chairman of the Monterey county defense council, said he had been advised by Kenneth R. Hammaker, executive director of the State Council of Defense, that "immediate clarification of the blackout lighting problem must be effected."

"Because there has been so much confusion on this subject, and operators of many authorized vehicles are in the dark as to the type of lights they may legally use, we are anxious to have this matter settled at the earliest possible date," he declared.

Hammaker declared that the study would be conducted by council technicians in cooperation with the State Department of Motor Vehicles, the Western Defense Command and the Ninth Regional Office of Civilian Defense.

Gas Attack Protection

The following instructions are to acquaint the citizens of Carmel with the information which the local Civilian Defense Council is distributing to all block wardens and senior wardens in the Carmel area. Your warden will call upon you to inform you more fully of the factors to bear in mind in the event of a gas attack upon this coast. These instructions are no cause for undue alarm but merely in compliance with the nationwide program in educating the civilian in the protection of his home, family and himself. Bear these points in mind should there be a need for protection against gas:

No city-wide gas alarm will be given under any circumstances. Your warden will warn you of the presence of gas in your own block or immediate area by beating upon a metal object. This is the universal method to distinguish the gas alarm from the regular air raid warning signal.

Only the warden will issue the warning and not until he is absolutely sure that there is gas in his immediate area, he will not sound the alarm merely because he hears a warning from an adjacent block.

Upon hearing the warning the first thing for the civilian to do is to immediately get off the streets and into a building. Stay indoors in the upper floor of the house.

Be sure that all windows are closed, likewise all doors and fireplace flues. Turn off your heating or ventilating system immediately.

Remain in the upper floors of the house until your warden has returned to tell you that there is no more danger from gas in your immediate area. Do not leave the house merely because you have heard the air raid all clear signal, for there may still be gas in your area.

Above all stay off the streets. Do not let panic on your part be the cause of false reports of gas or undue consternation to your neighbors. Obey your warden and remember that he is trained and equipped to watch out for your welfare in the event of a gas attack.

FRANK HAY, Chief Warden.

Duration-ize
your appliances
with timely repair!

THERE are not going to be any more appliances manufactured for home use for an indefinite period. So we are going to be a lot more careful in the use of all things we own and we must keep in good repair, all of the mechanized equipment used on the Home Front. In the past, we could always buy new and better and more efficient equipment. BUT NOT now! That is not for the duration.

We must all of us in the U. S. A.—Duration-ize our home appliances with timely repair. It is a wartime necessity. So to meet this necessity, this Company, and the manufacturers, and the dealers from whom you bought your appliances, have set up a service of repair. It means a check-up service to improve the operation efficiency of the household appliances. It means a repair service with factory-made replacement parts to restore appliances to efficient low-cost operation.

Take a look at your appliances today. Will they see you through the war? You will be wise to Duration-ize with timely repair.

A. W. V. S. Codes Continues—

Tuesday evening, following the tack of the radios in going back on the air, the A. W. V. S. class in codes and communications started up again at Monterey High School.

There are 48 women enrolled in this course.

Myrtle Beamish in Town—

Myrtle Beamish, former resident of Carmel, returned this week after a ten-year absence at Salem, Oregon. She plans on remaining here for the summer.

* * *

Lynne Strasburger Home—

Saturday, Lynne Strasburger arrived home from school at Dana Hall, Mass., and next fall she plans to join her brother, Arthur, at Stanford.

* * *

Mrs. Watkins in Ford Home—

The Byington Ford home in the Mission tract has been rented to Mrs. Catherine C. Watkins of Santa Monica for two months, while Ruth Ford sojourns at the Fords' Airway ranch house.

* * *

Katharine Mathiot Graduates—

Carmel's representative in the Mills College graduating class this year is Katharine Parker Mathiot, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Mathiot of Rancho Carmelo in the Valley.

A member of the P. E. M. and Spanish clubs, Miss Mathiot received her diploma in commencement exercises Sunday.

* * *

Pat Truslow Zucovich—

Finally—only a month afterwards—word comes of the news of Pat Truslow's marriage to Major George Zucovich in Honolulu May 16.

A lieutenant in the Army Nurses Corps, Miss Truslow is the daughter of Mrs. Johnstone Truslow of Carmel.

The couple is installed in an apartment in Honolulu after one of the largest Army wedding ceremonies since Dec. 7.

Zaida Martin Celebrates—

Thursday night after high school graduation, Zaida Martin was guest of honor at a champagne party given by her aunt, Elsbeth Frelson, in honor of Zaida's passing the Stanford aptitude test in Class A.

Other important people present were Zaida's fellow graduate, her brother, John Roberts Martin, and their grandparents, Dr. and Mrs. H. C. Murphy of Salinas and Slate's Springs.

Army Family Portraits—

Florence Lockwood has just finished painting the portraits of two Army daughters, the Ford twins, Janet and Charlotte, and is now at work on a large painting of Mrs. William Cole Vest, the wife of Colonel Vest.

Douglas Graduates—

Local girls who received diplomas from Douglas School June 2 were Charlotte Townsend, daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Frank Townsend of Carmel, Eleanor Robb, daughter of Lieutenant Colonel and Mrs. H. L. Robb of Carmel, and Patsy Shephard, daughter of Mrs. Chester Shephard, Monterey Peninsula Country Club.

"Free French" was the title of the commencement address delivered by Mrs. J. M. Glasgow of Fort Riley, Texas, who was until recently a Monterey Peninsula Country Club resident. Diplomas and awards were made by Mrs. Grace Parsons Douglas and Major Paul Winslow, with Charlotte Townsend winning the Ingalls Essay award for her paper, "Citizenship in War-time." Miss Townsend also took part in the exercises, telling of the class history, while Miss Shephard read the class will.

Mrs. Clappett No Longer Sorry—

"I used to feel sorry for the people who had to live in Texas, but I don't any more," says Mrs. F. W. Clappett on returning from three months in Dallas.

She found Dallas a beautiful city with crooked streets like Boston's, a stream, flanked with parkways, flowing through the center, and, one of Carmel's foremost garden enthusiasts, Mrs. Clappett also noticed that Dallas has fine gardens on all sides.

Texas is full of planes and big men—the biggest she had ever seen.

Mrs. Clappett's purpose in going to Texas was to be with her ill son, Robert, who is now entirely well.

The other day in Dallas Mrs. Clappett chanced to run into Mrs. W. H. Hargrave of Pebble Beach. Mr. and Mrs. Hargrave returned June 2 from their Texas holiday.

Mrs. Erskin to Collaborate—

Mr. and Mrs. Morce Erskin of San Francisco and their son, John, out from Harvard, spent the weekend here and visited their many friends.

Mrs. Erskin said that she would soon be assisting another sometime Carmelite, Rhys Williams, in preparing his latest book on Russia, "The Soviets," for a new edition to appear in August. On a cross country lecture tour at present, Mr. Williams is in New York.

* * *

Mrs. A. M. Allan of Point Lobos and her son, Bob, have gone to Santa Fe for the summer.

A Piano Is Needed—

After the regular service at All Saints' Church every Sunday, the Rev. and Mrs. C. J. Hulsewe go up to Robles del Rio where they conduct a newly established church school.

But they are sadly in need of a piano. If anyone has an upright piano which they would be willing to lend for use by the class, it would be greatly appreciated by all the school members.

Tom Wilson, Jr., Returns—

After three years in New York and Kansas, Tom Wilson, Jr., a former Carmelite, was back in town this week.

He has been looking up old friends, and Monday evening he found quite a group of them together at the Sunset School reunion.

* * *

Mrs. Leffingwell Home—

In Baltimore to see her daughter, Nancy, off on a Johns Hopkins expedition across the Atlantic, Mrs. Ernest Leffingwell saw instead a regular movie romance.

At the last moment, as the ship was practically ready to sail, Nancy decided she preferred marriage to Dr. Herman Iverson of Johns Hopkins to setting off on a long voyage in the interests of her career. They were married in Baltimore, with Mrs. Leffingwell attending, and will spend their next three years at Rochester where Dr. Iverson has a scholarship at the Mayo Clinic.

Mrs. Leffingwell is back this week, at home in Carmel.

Patriotic Bean Bags—

Bundles for Britain reports that the most popular item yet to be brought into the thrift shop is the bean bag frogs—economically stuffed with inedible seeds instead of beans—made by Mrs. Agnes Dupuis.

They not only look like frogs, they act like them, the Bundlers declare.

Further Restrictions on Telephone Installations Are Necessary to Save Materials Vital to the War

The latest War Production Board Order further restricts the use by telephone companies of materials essential to the war effort. It restricts the building of cable or wire lines for the installation of new telephones, both business and residence, if more than a minimum of construction is involved—except for service necessary in the war effort or for public health, welfare and safety. It requires much wider use of party-line service.

The reason for these restrictions is to save additional quantities of critical materials used in providing telephone service—such as copper, aluminum, tin, steel, magnesium, zinc, nickel. These materials are urgently needed for the Nation's planes, tanks, guns, ships, munitions. They are VITAL TO VICTORY.

To install one extension telephone may require no more than 30 or 40 feet of copper wire, but to install thousands of them takes enough copper to wire a fleet of bombers.

The immediate effect of these restrictions upon the public will vary in different localities, depending upon what, if any, facilities are available. If you should be unable to secure the service you want, we know you will understand why. The temporary sacrifice of your personal convenience will make a worth while contribution to VICTORY—it is a real part of the price of protecting LIBERTY.

Next week Peter Thatcher expects to go south to work in an airplane plant.

Pinckards New Pine Inn Hosts—

At Pine Inn Sunday at 8:30 p.m. a film of 'Sun Valley Lodge' will be shown, and serving as hosts for this evening program will be Mr. and Mrs. Eyre Pinckard, Pine Inn's new official hosts.

Formerly the Pinckards acted in the same capacity for Del Monte.

Morsonys in Chico—

Tuesday Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Morsony traveled to Chico on business. Mrs. Morsony plans to return in two weeks while Mr. Morsony remains indefinitely.

Auxiliary Installation—

Mrs. Laura Chivers of Los Gatos, district president of the American Legion Auxiliary, came to Carmel on Monday to install the new officers of the Auxiliary to Carmel Post No. 512.

The ceremony was performed at the local Auxiliary's annual dinner meeting Monday evening at Sade's, with Mrs. Ed Ewig becoming president; Mrs. William Landers, first vice president; Mrs. Conrad Imelman, second vice president; Mrs. Carl Kludt, secretary; Mrs. Charles Childers, treasurer; and Mrs. Rene Moore, historian.

In recent months Carmel Auxiliary members have contributed funds to help in the collection of blood donations, and Monday Mrs. Chivers told how a mobile unit, purchased with these and similar gifts throughout the state, is now traveling through the less accessible parts of California gathering the blood donations of remote communities.

Coblentz Wedding—

At St. John's Chapel, Del Monte, Monday afternoon, Jane Cudlip became the bride of Sam Coblentz, son of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Coblentz of Carmel. The couple is honeymooning in Yosemite and will live in Berkeley.

On Sunday the new Mrs. Coblentz, a Lead, S. D., girl, graduated from Mills College where she was a member of Phi Beta Kappa, national scholastic honor society.

The ceremony was attended only by intimate friends and relatives of which there were quite a number, the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Cudlip, her aunts, Mrs. B. C. Yates, Mrs. Garland of Santa Barbara, Mrs. William Hobbs of Lompoc, and their families, and Sam's aunt, Mrs. Max Frankenau of San Francisco.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Naomi Dernidine Ouderkirk of Casper, Wyoming, while Ensign Frank Hagan of San Francisco served as best man.

Following the ceremony, the guests toasted the couple at a champagne party at Hotel Del Monte.

Catherine Van Dyke Weds—

In New York City Saturday, Catherine Van Dyke of Pebble Beach and Lieutenant William Davlin Moonen were married in the rectory of St. Patrick's Cathedral.

They will live in Virginia Beach, Virginia, while at the end of June Mrs. Henry Seward Van Dyke, mother of the bride, who attended the ceremony, will return to her home in Pebble Beach.

Bluejacket Honey—

Carmelites who have bought that delicious honey at the Bundles for Bluejackets thrift shop may be interested to know it is the work of the Ralph Skene bees which are busily employed up the Carmel Valley.

Mrs. Brown, Miss Doud Back

Nine months to the day of their departure, Florence Sharon Brown and Louise Doud arrived home Sunday from New York.

Mrs. Brown has been working for the Red Cross four days a week from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. She helped with the sewing and repairing of knitting department in which such things as choking turtle necks are ripped of sweaters, the division known as the "grief department." And meanwhile Miss Doud put in six days a week of equally hard work at the American Academy of Dramatic Art. For her "final" Miss Doud took part in four widely different plays as lead, comedian, tragedian, and in a character part.

In between rehearsals and knitting catastrophes, however, the two Carmelites slipped out to see all the plays. "Watch on the Rhine" was their favorite, and "Macbeth" next with Judith Anderson giving an entirely new conception of Lady Macbeth. She vitalizes her, turns her into an alluring woman and is marvelous, says Mrs. Brown.

"The Moon Is Down" was the last play the women saw. Although Mrs. Brown enjoyed this latest Steinbeck very much, she heard other opinions. Two women, who had apparently just come from a dinner party, sat behind her, and one said:

"It's rather serious, don't you think?"

"And the other answered:

"Oh, from the name I didn't think it would be like this."

(More of Florence Sharon Brown's impressions of war-time New York will appear in next week's Pine Cone.)

Mrs. C. S. Babcock Leaving—

This week-end Jadwiga Noskowiak Babcock, little Barbara and Conrad III—who came to Carmel a year ago when they were evacuated from Tokyo—are leaving for the east which Lieutenant Colonel C. Stanton Babcock is expected to reach on a diplomatic ship from Japan some time in September.

Mrs. Babcock, who is something of a Carmel old-timer since she had lived here before her marriage and taken part in Forest Theatre productions, has been seen on the local stage again during the past year both at the First Theatre and as Ophelia in last summer's festival performance of "Hamlet."

The summer will be spent by Mrs. Babcock and the children with General and Mrs. C. S. Babcock at Vineyard Haven, Mass. The only thing they know for certain about plans after Colonel Babcock returns is that they will be stationed temporarily in Washington, D. C. Colonel Babcock was United States assistant military attache at Tokio.

Registered at the Fairmont Hotel in San Francisco for a few days' visit are Misses Ruth Burrows and Virginia Von Christiern from Carmel.

John Rockwells Visit—

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Rockwell have been looking up old friends during a vacation in Carmel this week.

Many Teachers Stay Here

Others Travel, Study—

An unusually large group of teachers at Carmel High School and Sunset are remaining in the Village for their vacations, Miss Leila Gilmert and George Mosolf, who will direct Carmel's recreation program, Mrs. Frances Johnson, Lloyd Miller, Clayton Schutts, Miss Hazel Sener, at least temporarily, Lucille Burtis, Robert Doerr, Miss Estelle Billington, Mrs. Ann Uzzell, Mrs. Clarisse Dugou, Mrs. Anna Kohner and Miss Harriet Norman, except for two weeks in Oakland.

On the other hand, Mrs. Sylvia Meeter Jordan hopes to get down to Mexico City for more courses at the University of Mexico; Mrs. Helen Poulsen and Donald Craig will attend summer session at the University of California; Mrs. Helen Cowan Wood and Mrs. Bernita Ninneman are going to U. C. L. A.; Mrs. Mabel Hart is journeying to Minneapolis, while Miss Jeanne Staffebach will spend the entire summer in the high Sierra Nevada.

Miss Martha Groth's destination is Monrovia; Miss Alice Hoppel's, San Francisco; David Mars', now taking examinations for the Army, unknown; Miss Anya Edlen's, Los Angeles; Miss Florence Morrow's, Los Altos; and Mrs. Down and Miss Eletteth McQuilkin will be at home in Pacific Grove.

Wilson Getsinger and Mr. White plan to attend summer quarter at Stanford, and Ernest Calley will enroll at San Jose State.

Miss Stella Schnabel will go home to San Jose, Bernice Riley, to Oakland, and Mrs. Edna Lockwood is going off to visit relatives in Kansas.

Breakfast Party—

Last Friday night after the senior ball, Joan Hornby entertained a group of her friends at a breakfast of eggs and sausage.

Among those present were Kay Nagle, Eleanor Johnston, Cornelia Shuman, Pat Shepard, Ruth Burrows, Howard Levinson, Colden Whitman, Jr., George Myette, Ed Brock, Bill George and Louis Alaire.

Mrs. Ten Winkel Returns—

Mrs. Frank Ten Winkel has enjoyed a pleasant holiday in southern California and is now back at her Carmel home.

She spent a week at the Santa Maria Inn with Mrs. Clifford Hicks (Helen McLaughlin), former secretary at the Carmel Investment company.

Mrs. Ten Winkel's niece, Mrs. Carl Lockwood, picked her up for a week's stay in San Luis Obispo, and then she went on to Pismo Beach to be the guest of Mrs. John Collier.

Frank Wickman Back at Studio—

After following out his usual custom of spending the winter in New York City, Frank Wickman has reopened his studio in the Highlands.

On his return the noted teacher of piano stopped for a vacation at his lodge in Marshfield, Oregon, in company with a guest, F. W. Newhall.

Dancer Beth Dean Here—

Miss Beth Dean, daughter of Mr. C. L. Dean is in Carmel to spend the summer with her father and Mrs. Dean. She has just completed an extensive tour with the Messrs. Shuberts' musical, "Blossom Time," in which she appeared in the role of prima ballerina as well as in several acting and singing parts.

As a child while living in Paris, Beth Dean studied with the Opera Ballet there. Recently she was again in Europe for two years, continuing her studies of both voice and dancing. As a member of the Russian Ballet, she appeared for a short London season. She has also acted in straight dramatic parts at the Cleveland Playhouse.

Two Crossmans Here—

In town for a breather after her week-end graduation from U. S. C. is Doris Crossman. She is now the proud possessor of a grade school teacher's degree, and, although she isn't yet certain, she thinks that this fall will find her teaching somewhere in the Los Angeles district. Father Bud Crossman is also close by. He's staying in the Pine Inn again.

Grey Ladies Meet—

Mrs. Vera Peck Millis opened her home Saturday for a business meeting and tea of the Red Cross Grey Ladies.

Mrs. Clark En Route East—

Undaunted by all threats of gas rationing, Mrs. Kent Clark drove off Monday morning with her mother, Mrs. Ira Miller, bound for New Hampshire.

Mrs. Miller, who celebrated her eighty-seventh birthday recently, ago, makes this trip to see her sons and daughters in the east every summer and may be expected back in Carmel for the winter. Mrs. Clark plans to return in about three weeks to her home on San Antonio near Ocean.

Patterson, Fort Ord; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Reams (Carol Larson), Ord Village; Major and Mrs. Frederick H. Sheldon (Betty MacKenzie), Carmel; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Simpson, Monterey.

Barbara Norberg at Fresno Party

Mrs. Gunnar Norberg went over to Fresno the other day to assist at the party for 200 given by Barbara Antrim which announced her engagement to Mrs. Norberg's brother, Dr. Thomas Collins.

Pink lilies of an exotic South Sea variety were used in the decorations, giving the reception an unusually attractive background.

Both Miss Antrim and Dr. Collins are well known in Carmel since Miss Antrim, a graduate of U. C. L. A., has long spent her summers here and Dr. Collins has come from Stanford and his present military post to visit his sister.

Mrs. Max Frankenau Here—

The sister of Mr. George S. Coblenz, Mrs. Max Frankenau of San Francisco is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Coblenz for the week.

Mrs. Jessie Morehouse Arrives—

In Carmel to visit her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Morehouse, is Mrs. Jessie Morehouse of Chico. She plans to spend the summer here.

Eighth Grader Party—

To celebrate his graduation from the eighth grade, Daniel Bell, son of the Frank M. Bells, gave what he calls a Victory dance at his home on Guadalupe.

Defense stamps were given as prizes for the best dancers with Ruth Townsend and Martin Irwin winning first place and Mary Jean Elliott and Bobby Bell, second.

The other guests were Barbara Timmins, Carol Walker, Ann Hodgson, Jeannette Strasburger, Mary Gregory, Joanne Graham, Constance David, Alice Christerson, Charlotte Dawson, Pamela Dormody, Alice Morehouse, Nancy Tower, Patsy Hughes, Beva Pilling, Becky Bell.

And the boys were Gail Fraties, Clayton Neill, Jerry Shepard, Martin Katz, Raymond Jones, Richard and Arthur Templeman, Ty Hook, Lee Andrews, Jack McClanahan, Don Appleton, Earl Stanley, Tommy Hefling and Earl Ewalts.

Sherlie Sousa Celebrates—

Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Steve Patterson were hosts at their home on San Juan at a party for their niece, Miss Sherlie Sousa, who became eleven years old that day.

There were games, a luncheon with huge birthday cake and ice cream, and dancing, enjoyed by the following guests: Jacqueline Hillis, Willette Torras, Betty Doherty, Ladisa Narvaez, Peri Kohler, Patsy Canoles, Stephen Brooks, Bob Barry, Dick Cox, Frank DeAmaral, Bob Rissel, Raphael Narvaez and Billy Graham.

The Rene Moore Orchid—

When she returned from a winter vacation in Honolulu last year, Mrs. Rene Moore brought with her a beautiful red butterfly orchid plant.

The customs officers in looking for parasites stripped the plant down to its very roots so that Mrs. Moore had little hope for its future. However, it put out leaves, stalks and this week has sent out a cluster of flowers.

Mrs. Moore has lent the plant to the Der Ling Shop where all may see the exquisite little red flowers with yellow faces.

Ledger-Campbell Wedding—

In a colorful military ceremony Tuesday at the Monterey Presidio Chapel, Miss Elise Minamary Ledger became the bride of Lieutenant Russell A. Campbell, Jr.

Miss Jane Ledger, the bride's sister, and Shelton Downey attended the couple, who have gone to Los Angeles for their honeymoon.

Winsor Josselyn a Lieutenant—

Winsor Josselyn of the Carmel Josselyns, who until a week ago was reporting for the San Francisco Examiner, is in the Army now, and has received the commission of first lieutenant.

Miss Tarpey Weds June 20—

Hope Tarpey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bainbridge Tarpey of Carmel and Fresno, and Ensign George Brady, Jr., will be married the afternoon of June 20 at Carmel Mission.

Miss Tarpey, the sister of Arthur Tarpey, Jr., and Malcolm Tarpey, has chosen Mrs. Arthur Tarpey, Jr., as her single wedding attendant, while Commander Emmett Brady of San Francisco, uncle of the bridegroom, will serve as best man.

The couple plan to live in San Francisco.

Mary Northrup in Melbourne—

Miss Florence (Babs) Curtin has just received a telegram from Washington Red Cross headquarters telling of the arrival of her sister Mary Curtin Northrup, at Melbourne, Australia, with a contingent of Red Cross nurses.

Mrs. Northrup sailed a month ago.

High School Senior Ball—

Sixty couples attended the high school senior ball in the Bali room at Hotel Del Monte and, from all appearances, had a wonderful time.

Arrangements were made through the combined efforts of the K. D. and Sphinx clubs with Pat Shephard, Eleanor Johnston and Nancy Couvert making up a big "42" in roses, the class flower.

Johnny Roberts Returns—

Johnny Roberts, son of Mrs. Elmina Roberts, is back in Carmel after publishing the magazine, "Now," and working with modern dance groups in New York.

Murrays Entertain Informally—

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Burleigh Hall Murray were luncheon hosts in their blossom-filled garden to Mesdames Harry S. Nye, Helen Clark Cranston and Frank Ten Winkel.

In Reno to See Husband—

Mrs. Nelly Marino and Mrs. Laura Chester and their respective children have returned from three days in Reno. Far from having any connection with divorce, the purpose of the trip was to enable Mrs. Marino to see her husband, Anthony, who is in Reno on business.

Sinister Bogart Stars at Carmel

The bill at Carmel Theatre this week end supplies two first-rate features, "All Through the Night," starring the sinister Humphrey Bogart, and "On the Sunny Side," whose leading player is the appealing lad, Roddy MacDowell. His fine work in "Confirm or Deny" and "How Green Was My Valley" places him in the front rank of boy actors. This program plays tonight and tomorrow, with the usual Saturday matinee.

In addition to Bogart, "All Through the Night" presents an exceptionally able cast, including Conrad Veidt, Kaaren Verne, Judith Anderson, Peter Lorre and Jane Darwell. In the drama a new story angle appears, American gangland pitted against the even

Sunny Cook in S. F.—

With school out, Sunny Cook has gone up to San Francisco to visit her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Bullard.

Sunny plans to be away one month or maybe two months if she doesn't get too homesick.

Cicero Family Visits—

Two members of their family are here for a visit this week with Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cicero, their niece, Gerry Gertsch and Mrs. Cicero's son, Bob Hays.

more murderous Gestapo. Bogart, as a "retired" mobster, succeeds with his ex-pals in foiling a sabotage plot in New York, and with his second characterization as the hero of the piece turns in an even better portrayal than in "The Maltese Falcon."

"Woman of the Year," starting a three day run Sunday afternoon, is important aside from its highly entertaining qualities, for the experts say that through it Katherine Hepburn will beyond question win the Academy Award for the current movie year. A couple of years ago Miss Hepburn led the famous list of "box office position" players; it is heartening to the layman to see what a magnificent comeback she has made in recent pictures.

Wednesday and Thursday's double bill leads off with "Rings On Her Fingers," starring Henry Fonda and Gene Tierney; the second feature is the much discussed and long-postponed "Dr. Kildare's Victory," starring Lew Ayres.

Talent Roundup To Start Soon for Civic Play Season

The Carmel Civic Play Season took form this week as Edward G. Kuster began to interview local talent in preparation for casting the first play, according to Malcolm Tarpey.

The first production is scheduled for early July with the four succeeding plays in the series following at three-week intervals through the summer.

All performances will be held in the Playhouse, and season tickets are now being reserved. The plan is to assure Kuster the cost of production through advance ticket sales.

Among the business men to sponsor this civic enterprise are Harold Nielsen, Malcolm Tarpey, Ken Carleton and Doc Stanford.

Memorial Service For Carlyle Lewis On Armistice Day

The name of Technical Sergeant Carlyle Lewis will be inscribed this week on the war memorial in Devendorf Plaza.

Services for the young Carmel man, killed in an airplane crash May 29 in South America, will be held in the plaza on Armistice day.

The decision to hold commemorative services twice yearly on Armistice and Memorial days was made by the American Legion committee in charge of the monument, E. H. Ewig, Ernest Morehouse and Fred McIndoe in conference with Mayor Keith Evans and Fred Bechdolt.

L. E. Lewis, father of Sergeant Lewis, received a telegram from the war department this week which told of the burial of his son with full military honors in the new national cemetery at Corozal, Canal Zone. Beside Carlyle Lewis his flying mates, Major John P. Stewart of Riverside, and Staff Sergeant Thomas Noble of Derby, Colo., are buried.

The official telegram likewise brought word that the government mission of mapping on which Sergeant Lewis was engaged was of such importance that the exact location of the accident could not be given. Bad weather caused the plane in which Lewis was serving as a photographer to crash into a mountain side, the telegram said.

A Carmel Van Winkle—

Back in Carmel after an absence of eleven years is Henry Adamson, now of Redwood City. One of the things about Carmel that Adamson remembers most is The Pine Cone, which he knew from top to bottom. He was a printer for Bunch who used to print the local news as handled by the team of Cockburn and Newberry.

Army Daughters Tea

Next Tuesday—

The Army Daughters will give another of their well-attended bridge teas on Tuesday, June 16, at the Pacific Officers Club.

Everyone is invited to come and join in the fun, which will start at 1:30 p.m. and end at 5 p.m. Tea will be served at 4 o'clock, and there will be a door prize.

Reservations may be made by calling Frances Chynoweth, Carmel 1250, or Winifred Stilwell, 1453.

Partial Election Held By Depleted Carmel Music Society Sunday

With its nominating committee chairman, Dr. R. A. Kocher, called off to serve as a major in the Army, the Carmel Music Society did not elect a new board of directors at its annual meeting Sunday in the Art Gallery.

Members did, however, vote for three new members for the board, Mesdames James Cooke, Edmund Dexter and W. H. Hargrave. Mrs. Paul Flanders and Mrs. Herbert John Morse have resigned.

Pitching Battle Bad for Pop in Softball Fracas

In a father and son pitching duel, son, Jimmy Kelsey, made it so tough for father, Ivan, that the latter had to turn the conduct of the battle over to Ernie Morehouse in the Auxiliary Firemen-Special Police soft ball game Sunday.

Jimmy Kelsey, pitching the firemen to a 19 to 8 victory, shared honors for outstanding performance with fielding star Harry Hilbert, also of the Firemen.

Paul Robeson Film Playhouse Opener

Carmel Playhouse, dark since Pearl Harbor, re-opened last night, getting off to a successful flying start with an exceptionally fine film, "Proud Valley," made in the Welsh coal mining region and starring America's greatest singing actor, Paul Robeson. Aside from the merits of the picture as such, Paul Robeson sings several songs, old and new, which no one who hears them will be likely to forget.

As David Goliath, an unemployed Negro stoker from a Cardiff tramp steamer, making his way up the Welsh valleys in search of work, and finally sacrificing his life to save some trapped miners in a blocked-up tunnel, Robeson is superb. It is a picture to quicken the pulse and deepen the understanding. Beside an excellent cast, the film offers the famous Eisteddfod Festival Singers at their ages-old annual gathering.

The first-night audience showed enthusiasm for the short subject comprising several dances by Carmen Amaya, the greatest of Spanish gypsy dancers. It is of special interest that the Carmel Music Society has engaged her for their first program next season.

The present bill will continue until Wednesday, with a Sunday matinee. Next Thursday the bill will change to "Ball of Fire," to be shown for the first time in Carmel. It is a hilarious comedy starring Gary Cooper and Barbara Stanwyck.

Miss Edith Sibberd, head of the music department at the Oakland Library, has been vacationing in Carmel for the past two weeks, and returned to Oakland Monday. While here, she occupied the James cottage, and entertained as guests, Miss Florence Everett, Miss Elsie Schauler and Mrs. Nina Saunders of Oakland.

It's Goodbye to Our Host of Friends and Customers

THE AZTEC STUDIO SHOP — CARMEL

QUITTING BUSINESS

We Are Unable to Adjust and Gear Our Business to This War Emergency—Therefore We Have Decided to Close Out to the Bare Walls

LET THE STOCK BRING WHAT IT WILL—Only after careful deliberation we regret to announce to our loyal friends and customers this drastic action—for we of this grand little shop are mindful of its legion of loyal patrons. It's like the parting of old and true friends. Thus as a final gesture the Aztec Studio Shop presents to you this MOST SENSATIONAL FAREWELL SALE. War conditions increase difficulties in importing the rare and beautiful Art Goods and Gifts that distinguish the Aztec Studio Shop — Facing these facts, we cannot see our way clear to continue. ## OUR FAREWELL STATEMENT

We could sell this stock outright to speculators and be done with it quickly. But rather than do this, we prefer that our host of friends and customers gain the benefits—in the form of outstanding benefits. So, as the Aztec Shop passes into oblivion, you can stock up on many articles that you may not be able to buy for years to come—and at a sacrifice in price. We have entrusted the task to the well known liquidators of San Francisco
